GUILTY!

The Jury in the Goldenson Case

SOON FIND THE BRUTE GUILTY
Of Murder in the First Degree.
Sentence Will be Passed on Saturday.

Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—Arguments were concluded to-day in the case of Alexander Goldenson, charged with the murder of the school girl, Mamie Kelly, on November 10th last. The Court immediately charged the jury, which retired at 4:07 p. m. Goldenson, who was present in the courtroom, was taken to his prison cell, located in the same building where the court was held, to remain there until the jury were ready to report. The courtroom was full of spectators who waited patiently for the verdicts. About 4:45 the jury announced they were ready to report and the prisoner was sent for. His face expressed great anxiety as to the result. He, however, attempted to hide his fears by a vain endeavor to smile. Ten minutes later the jury filed into the court and took their seats. "Have you arrived at a verdict, gentlemen of the jury?" inquired the Judge. The foreman stepped forward, said that they had, and then read: "The People vs. Alexander Goldenson. The jury in the above entitled case find the defendant guilty of murder in the first degree." Upon hearing the verdict, a number of persons attempted a noisy demonstration. Several clapped their hands, and others, more demonstrative, stamped their feet. This was soon stopped by the Judge. The prisoner, according to the verdict, affected a pleasant look and sought encouragement by looking at his brother. In this, however, he was disappointed, as his brother's face was equally as pale as his own. Mrs. Goldenson, who has been in constant attendance during the trial, was not present when the verdict was rendered. Judge Murphy announced that he would pass sentence next Saturday, and the court then adjourned.

QUARANTINE WORK.

State Board of Health Inspectors Stationed at Various Points.

SACRAMENTO, March 28.—Dr. G. G. Tyrell, Secretary of the State Board of Health, is in daily receipt of reports from the inspectors which the Board has stationed at various points in the southern part of the State to maintain a rigid quarantine against smallpox. Of six inspectors employed, one is stationed at San Pedro, one at Mojave, one at Tuleare, two at Colton and one at San Diego. By their efforts, every train leaving Los Angeles is open to inspection as well as every train coming up from the southern border. Advices from Los Angeles indicate that the disease is well under control, and doubtless will not become epidemic. The Mojave inspector reports the detention there of a man who was almost well. He had been allowed to leave Ravens, Los Angeles county, to come to the northern portion of the State. He will be held until all fear of contagion is over. The Colton inspector reports that there is a rumor that the Yuma Indians are dying of the scourge, and he has gone down to Yuma to investigate the matter.

IT WAS A MARE'S NEST.

Boudin Defeated in His Claim for Mare Island.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—United States Circuit Judge Sawyer rendered his decision to-day in the case of D. W. Boudin against Thomas S. Phelps to recover possession from the United States of Mare Island. At the time the suit was brought Phelps was commandant at the navy yard on the island and represented the government in the proceedings. Boudin claimed title to the island on the alleged grant to Victor Castro by Governor Alvarado. The testimony tended to show that the deed of the grant was fraudulent. The decision was in favor of the defendant.

NO LIEBER.

Mr. Hearst Not Guilty of Any Crime Against Tuska.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—Judge Hornblower to-day decided the criminal libel suit brought by W. J. Tuska against W. R. Hearst, proprietor of the Examiner, by sustaining the defendant's demurrer. In his decision the Judge referred to the liberty of the press, and held that there was nothing in the article published to sustain the charge of criminal libel.

Encouraging Indications of Coal.

ALBANY, Ogn., March 28.—A party consisting of Frank J. Parker, editor of the Walla Walla Statesman, Charles S. Miller and W. M. Oglesby, of Gilliam county, arrived in this city this evening from a four days' trip to the Coast Range mountains, searching for coal. They were given a pass over the Oregon Pacific railway and made a careful examination of the country as far as Yaquina Bay. They report finding encouraging indications of coal.

Acquitted Twice.

SANTA ROSA, March 28.—The remaining charge of embezzlement now standing against John S. Van Dorn was dismissed to-day. Two trials have been had, and both resulted in acquittals. It is understood that two suits of Van Dorn's against the Sonoma County Bank for the return of certain personal property, will also be dismissed, as the whole matter has been compromised.

Looking for Normal School Sites.

RED BLUFF, March 28.—The Board of Trustees of the State Normal School, upon whom devolves the duty of selecting a site for a branch Normal School in Northern California, arrived here to-night. Governor Bartlett is among the number. To-morrow the trustees will be shown over the town and will view the various sites offered for the school.

An East Oakland Fire.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—The dwelling of Charles Kinsey in East Oakland was destroyed by fire early this morning. The loss is $50,000, partially covered by insurance.

CONSOLIDATED VIRGINIA.

A Week's Bullion Product—A Fire to be Extinguished.

VIRGINIA, Nov., March 28.—Bullion valued at $41,000 was shipped from the Consolidated California and Virginia. It does not represent the total product of the one extracted last week. The bursting of a retort at the Eureka mill left $30,000 in amalgam yet on hand, which will be carried over to the account of the current week. The shipment on April 31 will exceed $100,000.

Preparations are in progress to extinguish the fire smouldering in the old slopes of the Consolidated California and Virginia mine by injecting carbolic gas through the pipes which are being put in position for that purpose. So far the gas from the fire has not shut off any important ore developments.

A SPECIAL ELECTION

To Vote a Subsidy of $75,000 for a Railroad.

LAKEPORT, Cal., March 28.—The Board of Supervisors met in special session this morning to call an election to vote on the question whether or not Lake County shall vote a subsidy of $75,000 to the railroad company to build a road in the county. They found that the law for an election of that kind required thirty days notice, which it would be impossible to give before the 12th of April, when the election to vote on constitutional amendments will be held. The railroad men have agreed to build the road at once if the county will give the above amount, and the Supervisors will in all probability call an election at the regular meeting next Monday to vote on the question.

SAN JOSE COMING OUT.

The Wants Bridges, Sewers, a City Hall and a Hotel.

SAN JOSE, March 28.—The Board of Trade endorsed the proposal to issue bonds and the building of a first class hotel. The Council will hold a special election in two weeks on the question of issuing $500,000 bonds to build a City Hall, iron bridge, sewer extension and other improvements. The articles of incorporation of the new hotel company will be filed Wednesday. Sufficient stock has been subscribed to warrant beginning the work at once.

Admitted to Hell.

SALINAS, March 28.—Godfrey, who killed John Madigan, alias John McBride, near the Pleito, on the 12th inst., was to-day brought before Judge Alexander on a writ of habeas corpus, and admitted to bail in the sum of $12,000.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

A Review of the Day's Transactions.

NEW YORK, March 28.—The movement in the stock market, which began late last week, made further progress to-day, for the first time this year showing all the indications of a bull movement. It was the first really active day for many weeks and while there was nothing like a boom in any one stock or group of stocks, steady though slow appreciation of values lasted nearly the entire day. Buying was remarkable well distributed, nothing seeming being neglected, and while traders indulged in some realizing on their purchases of the previous day, there was a decided tendency to buy on margin.

Another Berlin special invests the visit of Reunmann royal to Berlin with diplomatic importance. It asserts that the advice of Germany was asked as to a military alliance between Roumania, Servia and Bulgaria, in resistance to Russia, and that the idea was encouraged.

A Paris special states that public opinion in Alsace-Lorraine is influenced by the attitude of the German Ministry.

THE INQUIST.

The Coroner's Jury Attach no Blame to the R. R. Employees.

An inquest was held yesterday on the body of Michael Yager, the unfortunate man who was cut in pieces by a train on Sunday evening, and after due deliberation the jury found that it was an accident. The testimony was mainly as follows:

Mrs. Flora Adams testified that she was standing talking with her husband in the railroad yard, but did not see the accident, although she saw the body afterwards and heard the screams.

William Marson swore that he was driving the street car that ran alongside of the train. He was within thirty feet of the second crossing when he heard a whistle, and applied the brake, or stopped. Heard people halloosing to some person; looked around and saw a man walk from behind the car and step in front of the train. He looked around at the street car and then the train struck him and threw him across one of the tracks. Thought he was confused by the people on the street car halloosing.

Robert Straus was standing on the platform of the street car running the same way as the train; heard the engine whistle to warn it not to cross; saw the street-car stop. The engine and car had slackened up at that time; did not notice any person on the track until the train had passed the crossing, where he noticed an object on the track. The train was then almost on top of the man, who did not look towards the train.

W. R. Smith, switchman, testified that he noticed a street-car running the same way as the train; heard the engine whistle to warn it not to cross; saw the street-car stop. The engine and car had slackened up at that time; did not notice any person on the track until the train had passed the crossing, where he noticed an object on the track. The train was then almost on top of the man, who did not look towards the train.

James Wales, switchman, noticed a man walking fast across the street and halloosed to him. He did not seem to pay much attention. He seemed determined to get across the track ahead of the engine, and did not pay any attention to the train.

J. G. Heinman, the engineer, testified that he was not running more than four miles an hour.

L. Ireland, W. Mario, Geo. Ray, Chas. Twiss, Frank Runyan, Morris Thompson, Harry Miller and Geo. McPharbridge testified to the same facts, and the jury found that Michael Yager came to his death from being run over by the cars of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, and attached no blame to the train crew.

A False Policy.

Mr. D. B. Jackson, an attaché of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, lately returned to San Francisco from a visit to the southern countries. He of course procured himself to be interviewed by the ubiquitous press of the Golden Gate, and we regret to see that he has permitted himself to fall into the groove which so many San Franciscans seem to regard as becoming to themselves. He has some very pleasant things to say about San Luis Obispo county, to which we would offer no sort of objection. In fact, we believe that San Luis Obispo is specially favored, and that its ample acreage will be the theater of many magical developments. But it is possible to praise our charming neighbor on the north without indulging in downright misrepresentation of Los Angeles county. Mr. Jackson may have been impelled to this course by the circumstance that the company which employs him has large landed and railway interests in San Luis Obispo. If he thinks that untrue and unfair reports circulated by him about Los Angeles and her sister southern counties will do his company any good, he is vastly the worse of the mark.

This gentleman belongs to a class very numerous in the central and northern counties, and nowhere more numerous than in San Francisco. Their course is in the highest degree illogical and absurd. The presence in our midst of a mild form of the smallpox enabled them to develop their malice in a very offensive form. In the streets and in the hotels of San Francisco it was represented that the disease had assumed an alarming magnitude here, and that our streets and hotels were deserted. The actual facts were exaggerated tenfold and in many cases a hundredfold. At the part of San Francisco it is insensate in the highest degree. All throughout the East cities may be found as large as San Francisco, and many of them of a far more interesting character. The multitudes who have sought Los Angeles and San Diego by the Southern routes have come to this coast not to subject themselves to the harsh winds and blizzards of San Francisco, but in search of an equable and balmy climate, and to take a sniff at the fragrance of our orange groves. Having come here, it is natural, as the season advanced, that they should seek to return home by the northern routes, thus assuring to San Francisco and other northern points a visit from them, with the consequent disbursement of much coin.

Of one thing we may be sure, however, and that is that if the winter visitor does not come to this Coast by the southern routes he will not return to the Atlantic States by the northern. San Franciscans are thus ostentatiously adopting the suicidal policy of trying to kill the goose that laid the golden egg. There can be no question but that exaggerated reports of the prevalence of smallpox in Southern California, and notably in Los Angeles, were spread broadcast in Chicago and New York by emissaries who were supposed to be working in the interest of San Francisco. That these people were really injuring that and all other northern points we think we have conclusively shown.

As to the class of people to whom Mr. D. B. Jackson belongs, they will probably learn better sense as they grow older. If not, it is to be hoped that the fool-killer will be along in short order and cook their mutton. They come to Los Angeles, loaf and the hotels for a few hours, and depart with the comforting conviction that they know it all, and that they will die with them. They may know nothing of the country, whose motion of which has been reduced to their pernicious vision.

They have not the remotest idea that in an average year Los Angeles country sells fully ten million dollars' worth of her own products, and that her climatic and other attractions are certain to draw a population of three hundred thousand people within her ample domain within the next ten years. Of the innumerable attractions of this region such men as Jackson know absolutely nothing, and yet their absolute lack of knowledge does not in the least curtail their flippant utterances. And little recks the Easterner, who here discerns the land of Goshen, flowing with milk and honey, of his dreams, what Jackson and his tribe think they know about that Mecca of sanitarians and of progress in all forms, yea! Los Angeles.

The San Francisco Post says that the HERALD has some latent animosity against the New York Sun's candidate for President, Wm. T. Coleman, and to prove its assertions that we have admitted laudatory poetry into these columns concerning this typical Californian. We deny the allegation and defy the alligator, to employ the resonant and rhythmic phraseology of the late lamented and supposititiously honest John Covode, of happy memory in Westmoreland county, Pennsylvania. We do not enter our protest as to the fact but as to the intent. It has been usual in all ages of the world for poets to celebrate the public men of the day. This practice ante-dates Virgil's "Sic vos non nobis," which was cleverly adulatory of Augustus; and Addison, in splendid verse, depicted the commander of the British legions in his day as directing the whirlwind and riding the storm. We most emphatically claim for our California poets the privilege—nay, the right—to commemorate the name and fame of the famous handler of the Pick Handle Brigade. If California is to have a Californian for President she can concentrate upon no abler nor more romantic character than Coleman—who, notwithstanding his years, looks like a virile Argonaut of the old days; and, as he has a history which may justly be celebrated in verses, we propose to accord to our rhymesters, poetasters and poets, the fullest prerogatives that appertain to their respective and widely removed avocations.

There can be no question of the fact that a latent but strong sentiment exists in the Southern counties for a State of South California. It is very immaterial what the name of the new Commonwealth, which will undoubtedly be an incident of the near future, may be. There are precedents in the case of North and South Carolina, and Virginia and West Virginia, which would justify the name of South California. On the other hand, a State called Los Angeles would be mellifluous enough to coax the birds from the bushes. When Oscar Wilde came to this country, after traversing its whole length and breadth, he said that Los Angeles was the prettiest name he had encountered on the American continent. It would certainly serve acceptably as the designation of a sovereign State, and our people would be quite willing to loan it to their compatriots of South California. Meanwhile, let no one forget that a State composed of the counties of the Southern California is one of the eventuality of the near future. The gestation of a Commonwealth is necessarily a slow process; but, like a certain operation of nature, it may be counted sure when such conditions exist as those which the HERALD has often outlined as characterizing the counties of the only genuine citrus belt.

The President is said to find considerable difficulty in discovering suitable persons to fill the positions of Commissioners upon the Pacific railroads. We are assured that these positions pay $750 a month, and that the service lasts for at least nine months. That is to say, some pompous individual will receive $6750 for doing nothing, and for crystallizing his crude opinions in a few meaningless platitudes. The people, who pay all these salaries, might well be excused for hoping that the passage of the Interstate Commerce bill would have resulted in the abolition of these sinecures. It ought to have been made a part of the duties of the latter highly-salaried Commissioners to discharge the functions imposed upon the highly paid Pacific Railway Commissioners. As to all these officials it may be safely said that all the real labor will be performed by a few under paid clerks, and that the reposes of both bodies will grace the remotest pigeon-holes to be discovered in the dimmest recesses of Congressional marble halls.

The matter was referred to the Board of Health.

The Mayor reported that he was receiving daily complaints of the filthy condition of the city and recommended a general "clean up." Referred to the Board of Health.

REPORTS OF OFFICERS.

The Mayor presented a message suggesting that a comprehensive plan of sewerage in the thickly settled portions of the city be prepared. Referred to the Sewer Committee and City Surveyor.

The Auditor presented a report showing the condition of the funds on March 26th. Finance Committee.

The Superintendent of Streets reported expenses of $519 during the week ending March 26th. Finance Committee.

The City Assessor reported taxes collected amounting to $1735.52. Finance Committee.

THE CABLE ROAD FRANCHISE.

The Clerk read the ordinance granting to the Los Angeles Development Company a franchise to build a double track cable railroad from the intersection of Grand Avenue and Seventh street along Fort to Franklin, Franklin to New High, New High to Temple streets.

H. T. Hazard requested that before action was taken a communication be read from Herman Silver. This was agreed to, and the Clerk read a petition from Mr. Silver asking for a franchise for a cable road over the following route: From the corner of Flower and Seventh street to Fort street and on Fort street to Temple street. Mr. Silver made a proposition that on the signing of the franchise by the Mayor he would give to the city $10,000 in coin, and give a bond conditioned to build the road and have it in working order within twelve months.

Mr. Hazard said that Mr. Silver was the manager of the street railway system of Denver, Colorado, and was a director of the Santa Fe system, thoroughly understood the matter and wanted to invest his capital in Los Angeles. Mr. Hazard also said that Mr. Silver would build the road clear to the San Vicente street, but, unfortunately, the Council had already granted a franchise to another company on that street (the Electric Company). He said Mr. Silver was thoroughly in earnest and to that end had deposited a certified check for $1000 with the City Clerk as an earnest of his intention to pay the $10,000 and build and equip the road.

Mr. Jones said he was satisfied that the Electric Company would surrender their franchise on Seventh street if requested, but he should oppose granting a franchise to a road that ended nowhere—Flower street.

Mr. Lovell said he considered this a dodge to prevent the Los Angeles Development from getting its franchise and said if Mr. Silver was much interested he would be on hand. He indicated that Silver was put forward by somebody else.

Mr. Hazard said: "Mr. Silver is the manager of the Denver street railways and is a director of the A. T. & S. F. system of railroads. He is a man of great capital and experience and intends to build a system of cable roads in Los Angeles if he can get franchises. It is beyond the limit of folly for any man to intimate that Mr. Silver is allowing himself to be made a dummy of. He offers you $10,000 for a franchise and puts up $1000. That means that he will at once build the road. I ask you gentlemen to consider how many franchises you have recently granted and then say how many companies have commenced work. People are getting franchises for the purpose of selling out again and failing in that the progress of development is obstructed and streets and portions of the city that should have roads are prevented by the reason that people have been granted franchises who never intend to build roads. A man does not put up money unless he means business, and Mr. Silver's money is.

Mr. Frankensfield said: Silver wanted to get this franchise to make a break in the grand system of cable roads from the east to the west part of the city. He referred to the offer of $30,000 made a short time ago for a franchise on Spring street.

Mr. Hazard said: "It is impossible to grant that franchise on Spring street."

Mr. Frankensfield replied: "It is nothing of the sort. It can be granted."

Mr. Perry moved that all franchises go over for one week. Seconded by Mr. Kuhrt and carried.

VALE!

Judge Brunson's Last Hour
on the Bench.

AN AFFECTING SCENE.

Resolutions by the Bar Association and Remarks by Judges
Cheney and Brunson.

Yesterday morning Judge Anson Brunson took his official leave of the bench of the Superior Court of this city, and, anticipating the remarks which were incident to that occasion, most of the leading members of the bar were present at the opening hour of the court. Judge Brunson having attended to several matters performed his last official act in granting further time to amend an answer in a case, and asking Judge Cheney to take the bench returned to a seat in the auditorium.

Mr. Wade then rose and said: If the Court please I desire to present this Court some resolutions.

SUPERIOR COURT OF THE COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES.

To the Presiding Judge of said Court: The undersigned would respectfully represent that they were, at a meeting of the members of the Bar of Los Angeles county, appointed a committee to draft resolutions expressive of their regret at the resignation of the Honorable Anson Brunson, one of the judges of this Court, and were by said meeting authorized to prepare such resolutions for this Court, and ask that the same be spread upon the minutes. In pursuance of such appointment we have prepared and asked leave to submit the following resolutions, and pray that the same be spread upon the minutes.

Resolved, that we recognize the resignation of the Honorable Anson Brunson of the Superior Court of the county of Los Angeles, to be a great public loss.

The qualities of mind and heart wh ch he has displayed while occupying the bench are rarely found with same profound knowledge of the law in the same person.

His course as a judge has fully exemplified the doctrines that honor in public employment, lies in the manner in which its duties are performed, rather than in the conspicuous position occupied by the officer.

There is no position either on the bench or at the bar to which he may be called for which Judge Brunson is not equally fitted, and ye-no stinted to which a noble ambition for the future lead him to aspire and add more true luster to his fame in the estimation of those who have watched his career than that which he has earned as a judge of our Superior Court.

As a student he is diligent, painstaking and comprehensive, as a judge he has been uniformly fair and impartial, with sufficient firmness to protect the dignity of the bench, a sufficient urbanity of temper to avoid undue harshness and asperity. His self-reliance has never degenerated into that egotism which advances as hasty impressions of what the law should be, to a place above what the law is. In administering the duties of his office he has manifested that breadth of intellect which prevents the just judge from mistaking mere form from substance. He has been in the language of Lord Bacon "more learned than witty, more reverent than plausible and more advised than confident." These are the qualities which we regard as belonging only to the great jurist, however circumscribed the theater in which they are displayed.

Resolved, That we, in view of the resignation of Judge Brunson, we freely acknowledge the sufficiency of the reasons assigned by him for pursuing this course. As lawyers whose labors he has lightened and facilitated by his wise administration, and whose affections he has won by uniform courtesy and kind consideration, we shall ever hold him in tender remembrance; and his record as a Judge is the best guarantee of his qualifications for the duties of the position upon which he is about to enter. As we esteem him as a Judge, we anticipate no abatement of our high regard for him as a brother lawyer when in future we meet him at the bar.

Signed,

WALTER VAN DYKE,
J. S. CHAPMAN,
W. F. FITZGERALD,
GEO. H. SMITH.

Mr. Wade then moved that the resolutions be spread upon the minutes.

Judge Cheney said: "In entering this motion I would state, as representing the Bench, that for the last two years it has been my good fortune to have been upon the bench with Judge Anson Brunson. The relations between us have been cordial, friendly and intimate, necessarily intimate from the confidential relations which must exist between two Judges of the same court. I have always esteemed him highly, more highly than any words can express. There is no word in these resolutions which I would change, but there are many words which I would add to them, were it proper. It is sufficient to say, in all my relations with him I have found him all that these resolutions say he is. I have not been ashamed to consult him. I have always been proud to drink at that legal fountain which he has supplied for the whole bar. I have looked upon him, with his years of experience, his kindness, his gentleness, his certainty and righteouness in legal conclusions, as one out of thousands. I regret very deeply that he leaves the bench. The burdens that have been cast upon him and myself during the last two years have been heavy, unusually heavy. It has only been by the adoption of systematic rules that we have been able to carry the burdens which have been thrown upon the bench. During this time Judge Brunson has always borne his share of it uncomplainingly, and has always been willing to assist me in mine. I regard him as I would regard a brother; I regard him as I would regard a friend. I regret his resignation, because, select whom we may, the position cannot be better filled than it has by Judge Anson Brunson. Let the resolutions be spread upon the minutes in full, Mr. Clerk.

Judge Brunson then being invited to say a few words, stepped in front of the Judge's seat and said:

GENTLEMEN OF THE BAR: I do not know how to respond to your resolutions. It has been said that a hearty robust man could live for many days without food, the life engine being fed upon the accumulations of the body. Whether that is so or not, I feel now that I could live the life of a generation upon the memories of the present hour; memories painted, fixed, buried in by your expression and recitation of evidence, confidence and profession of remorse. I can see no day in the future now without its sunshine, for I have already written down upon the tablets of my memory the substance of your resolutions, which every day it will be my pleasure to turn the leaf and read. I make no pretense to stoicism. I am pleased, proud, honored in the knowledge that my judicial career meets with your approval and your endorsement. It is gratifying, onward, compensation to me of more value than silver and gold. But however little I may merit it when measured by results I know that in heart, in purpose and intent, I can accept it without any conscientious scruples. After two years and three months I have in this Department endeavored to declare the law, I have, without a single exception, acted in harmony with what my mind and conscience dictated was right. That I have erred is only another way of saying that I am human. It is to you that I am largely indebted that I have made no more mistakes. I have been the constant recipient of your confidence and of your social, professional and moral support. This in itself has made my yoke easy and my burden light. It at any time while I have occupied the bench there has been by any attorney a word uttered in the intensity of earnest and sometimes heated discussion, which had a tendency to cause a ripple upon the judicial mind, to assure you that it has far past from me ignorance.

To the subordinate officers of the court I have no words but words of praise there ready, prompt and willing in the discharge of every duty, and as the curtain has dropped after each act of our judicial drama their words of kindly greeting and encouragement has been to me as restful as the music of an orchestra at an evening's entertainment. Our relations have been those of brothers dwelling together in unity.

"And since my brother Cheney and I, first arm and arm, entered into this temple of justice the most absolute harmony, confidence and good feeling has been present in all our counsels and all our deliberations. Perhaps there is no other place where heart responds to heart and where you can read and know the inner life, desires and ambitions of a man than in the counsel of judges. Therefore, I say to you I know him well. Do the contents of an open book before me, and with that knowledge I commend him unto you as an honest, faithful, fearless, conscientious man and judge.

We have not had the pleasure of being called in consultation with the other judges, but it is enforcement enough for them to know that they are now and have been for many years members of the bar of Los Angeles county, and that their appointment followed close upon your recommendation; and with them as principals and you as sureties, I heartily approve their bond.

I intended, this morning, when I took the bench, to call and make disposition of the law calendar for to-day, but after listening to your resolutions I do not feel now that I could deny a motion or make another ruling against any member of my bar. I feel it is better for you and for me to pass my bond to another Judge, and therefore, with a memory filled with pleasant recollections and a heart warm with manly affection for you, individually and as a bar, I bid you my final goodbye.

At the close of the remarks of Judge Glenay, and during Judge Brunson's remarks, it was noticed that many of the eyes were filled with tears, and the voices of both the speakers were visibly affected with emotion.

Extra Liability to Material In-Section.

Persons whose blood is thin, digestion weak and liver sluggish, are extra-susceptible to the attacks of miasmal disease. The miasma, in fact, may under such conditions, infect a system which, if healthy, would resist the miasmic taint. The only way to secure immunity from the disease is to cleanse the system to a tone and regulate the system by improving weakened digestion, enriching the blood and giving the whole system a proper tone. The results are accomplished by nothing so effectively as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which long experience has shown to be the best remedy for all forms of feverish and bilious diseases, and kindred disorders, as well as the best remedy for them. The bitters are, moreover, an excellent invigilant for the organs of the body, a diuretic, a deodorant, eliminating from the blood those acids and irritants which originate rheumatic ailments.

"I am living in a neighborhood surrounded with Diphtheria and was attacked with Ulcerated Sore Throat. I at once commenced to use Darby's Prophylactic Fluid, diluted about one-half, as a gargle, when great clots of ho d membrane and mucus came from my throat, and the attack passed off. I am satisfied of its efficacy as a preventive and cure for Diphtheria." —W. P. Woodward, Frankford, Pa.

The people below Alameda street in the neighborhood of Sausalito, Ducommun, Turner and Banning streets complain that no swillcart has visited that neighborhood for four or five days, and the barrels of swill are standing in the street awaiting action of some kind.

The Southern Pacific Company will have seven orange special trains this week; Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and two on Saturday via Ogden, and Monday and Friday via Elko. This owing, no doubt, to its being the last week before the Interstate Commerce bill goes into effect, which will advance rates on citrus fruits to St. Louis, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Chicago and command points thereto.

Whiting Allen, advance agent of the Carlton Opera Company, who is in this city making arrangements for the troupe to appear here on April 4th, yesterday received a dispatch from Carlton at Oakland telling him to return at once as he (Carlton) has positive information that smallpox is very bad in Los Angeles. The Mayor sent Carlton a telegram stating that the report was absolutely false, and the opera company will appear on the 4th.

BLUETT & SULLIVAN,

A Lightning Messenger.
A boy named Alfred James Church has been making himself obnoxious around the Nadeau House for some time past, and it is thought that he is out of his mind. He has been in the office for an hour at a time, and would peer into ladies' faces in a very rude and objectionable manner. He has been ordered out of the office a number of times, but as soon as the watchman's back was turned he would enter again. He wore a cap on which was a gilt letter, "Lightning Messenger." A warrant charging him with disturbing the peace was sworn out before Justice Tandy yesterday, and the boy was admitted to $50 bail. Some one ought to take care of him.

WHY

—IT IS POSSIBLE FOR US TO—

GIVE AWAY

ELEGANT PRESENTS

—WITH—

ALL BOOTS AND SHOES.

Many a jealous and envy-smitten competitor has ridiculed our establishment because we, by the use of

Energy and Enterprise

(qualities unknown to them), have brought from the distant East many useful articles to gladden the eyes and delight the heart of the nation.

The green eyed rivals view our success with dismay, and privately tell their friends and betters that we are raising our Boots and Shoes in order to make both ends meet, and that they are too virtuous to do anything of the kind. The real facts are, it is because we use that we can benefit our patrons so handsomely. We are selling better Boots and Shoes FOR LESS MONEY than any house in town, and are making a profit.

Coin, Courage and Enterprise

GIVING AWAY Elegant Presents.

We defy any Shoe merchant—or exchange for one—to produce an equal to our $2½ Ladies French Kid Button Shoe, and there is present worth a dollar.

Handsome PRESENTS with all Purchases.
